

ORDER FORT BROWN TROOPS TO ARMS

Hordes of Mexicans Are Reported to Be Massed
Along the River

FIGHT ALL DAY BATTLE

Ten Mexicans Are Known to Be Dead—Probably as Many More Bodies Lie in the Brush

ONE AMERICAN IS WOUNDED

BROWNSVILLE, Tex., Sept. 4.—Hordes of Mexicans were reported tonight to be massed along the river where today's battle took place 65 miles west of here. Communication between Brownsville and San Benito in the raided district was all but broken by wire cutters and all troops stationed at Fort Brown had been ordered to arms.

Crossing Is Closely Guarded.
At Cavazos crossing near Old Hidalgo, Tex., where United States cavalrymen and Mexicans across the river engaged in an all day battle ending late this afternoon, the south bank of the Rio Grande was reported tonight lined with Mexicans, well armed, but it could not be ascertained whether they included any Carranza soldiers. The so-called constitutionalist railroad lines near the crossing and it was reported that the train took many men from Matamoros tonight to the scene of the fighting. The place is closely guarded by United States cavalrymen and no demonstration has taken place since the firing ceased at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Cut All Wires But One.
Late tonight advices were received here that an attempt had been made to cut all the wires between this city and San Benito, 19 miles north of here. All the wires but one leading in this direction were cut. This was done a few miles north of the scene of Thursday's battle with troops and Mexicans.

Military authorities at Fort Brown gave no reason for the mobilization of all troops here but it was reported that the military authorities were taking all precautions against any effort of Mexicans on this side to organize and also to be ready for any attempt at invasion from the other side of the river.

Ten Are Known to Be Dead.
With at least ten known Mexican dead and probably as many more bodies lying in the dense brush, the battle between Mexican raiders and eighty United States cavalrymen, aided by a force of Texas rangers and armed citizens ended at 4 o'clock this afternoon. One American trooper was wounded.

Battle Is Fought All Day.
At 4 o'clock the Mexicans withdrew from the south bank of the Rio Grande and hid in the brush, apparently awaiting another opportunity to attack the Americans. The battle was waged practically the entire day the two forces firing at each other across the Rio Grande at a point four miles west of Old Hidalgo, Tex. The participants were stretched out in the brush on a battle line two miles long.

The injured American was John Salvini, private in Troop D, Third Cavalry, who sustained a serious wound in the left hip. He was taken to Mission, Tex.

Capt. Frank R. McCoy, who commanded the American forces, returned to Mission tonight. He reported ten dead Mexicans could be seen from the Texas side and that probably as many more Mexicans had been killed in the brush.

Earlier unofficial reports today placed the Mexican dead at 25 to 30. The number of Mexicans engaged was placed at 400.

When the fight ended the Americans were in possession of three crossings between Mexico and Texas in the vicinity of Mission.

Make No Attempt to Cross.
Old Hidalgo is west of Brownsville. The Mexicans made no attempt to cross the river but opened fire early today at an American ranchman, Orew, on the Texas side of the border and later at a detachment of cavalry ordered to the scene. Today's battle took place near the spot where a party of Mexicans crossed the river Thursday night and robbed several wayside stores.

Army and state officers regarded the attack today more seriously than former incidents of the kind in view of the military character of the attack of the party. It was not known positively that the Mexicans who engaged the Americans in the fighting at the international boundary were Carranza soldiers, but reports indicated that the original forty who fired at the ranchman and the rangers had been strongly reinforced by the Mexican soldiers, evidently from the Carranza garrisons in the little towns along the river.

Consider Reinforcing Garrison.
Arrangements for necessary reinforcements for the slender garrison of cavalry at Mission were reported under consideration tonight at Fort

GRAIN ELEVATOR BURNS; LOSS IS $2,000,000

FIRST REPORTS OF FATALITIES AT NEWPORT NEWS ARE NOT VERIFIED

General Freight Offices of the Chesapeake & Ohio Terminal Are Also Destroyed—Two Freight Piers Were Threatened—Three Steamers Get Away.

Newport News, Va., Sept. 4.—The Chesapeake & Ohio grain elevator "A", one of the largest in the United States, was destroyed by fire here tonight with a loss estimated at $2,000,000. First reports of fatalities were not verified.

The elevator which was one of the largest in the United States, had been operated night and day since the beginning of the war for the shipment of grain, chiefly to Great Britain. General freight offices of the Chesapeake & Ohio terminal were burned down.

Two freight piers were threatened by the flames. Nearly 500,000 bushels of wheat was in the elevator. Other property destroyed included the local offices of the United States shipping company and the Holland-American line grain pier No. 5, was damaged. Two other piers and three steamships were threatened.

The origin of the fire had not been ascertained tonight. Railway officials asserted it apparently started near the center of the elevator. Before it was discovered it had spread from top to bottom and from end to end of the big eleven story structure. The heat was so intense that for an hour firemen could not approach within several blocks and no effort could be made to combat the flames.

Two British steamers loading grain were towed into the harbor undamaged. An Old Dominion liner at an adjoining pier got away under her own steam.

Elevator "A" had a capacity of 1,500,000 bushels of grain. It was valued at nearly $1,000,000 and was constructed of wood with sheet metal covering. The loss is partially covered by insurance.

HUNDRED MEN STRIVE TO GAIN CONTROL OF SERIOUS FOREST FIRE

HOOD RIVER, Ore., Sept. 4.—A hundred men were striving tonight to gain control of a serious forest fire burning between Holstein and Bloncher on the Mount Hood railway.

The line of flames was about two miles long. A highway bridge had been destroyed and several ranch houses were threatened. Great volumes of smoke poured up tonight from a fire in the Columbia National Forest reserve west of Ilwaco, Washington, opposite this place. The fire appeared to have spread over a wide area.

BOOTLEG CASE TESTS WEST VIRGINIA PROHIBITION

Charleston, W. Va., Sept. 4.—Arguments will be heard today by Circuit Judge Littlepage on the habeas corpus proceedings brought by attorneys for Robert Bell, a convicted bootlegger. An attack, not only upon the prohibition law of West Virginia, but upon the constitutional amendment ratified by the state to bar the manufacture and sale of intoxicants in the state, is made in the habeas corpus petition.

Bell had commenced to serve a sentence of four months in jail and to pay a fine of $100 following his conviction for illicit selling of liquor. The attorneys claim that the constitution was not followed when the proposed amendment was submitted to popular vote. The state constitution provides that amendments become effective immediately after they are ratified, whereas the prohibition amendment prescribed that it would become effective two years after it had been ratified.

PULLING TEETH BRINGS PARDON

Jackson, Miss., Sept. 4.—Dr. Thomas B. Birdsong, the famous dentist prisoner at the state farms, who cared for the teeth of convicts for the past eight years, has been pardoned by Gov. Brewer. Hundreds of convicts were under Dr. Birdsong's care. The doctor was serving a life sentence for shooting and killing Dr. Pitts, a prominent physician, while under the influence of liquor. Birdsong was a gentleman, even in stripes. His friends never deserted him, and his tooth-pulling made him a hero among the state convicts.

Many of the members have already arrived and are quartered at local hotels. On Monday morning the opening session will be held in First Church, General Thomas S. Hopkins of Washington presiding.

Sam Houston, headquarters of the southern department.

Carranza Consul Garza, of Brownsville today gave assurances that firing on an American army airplane yesterday from the Mexican side of the river was not the work of any member of the Carranza garrison at Matamoros.

NEGROES BELIEVE MRS. MOHR INNOCENT

Repudiate Alleged Confession in Statement Made to Newspaperman

HOLD SELVES NOT GUILTY

Men Accused of Murdering Dr.
Mohr State They Will Be Able to Prove Alibis

GIVES ROBBERY AS MOTIVE

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 4.—A complete repudiation of the alleged confessions of three negro accomplices gave a new turn today to the case of Mrs. Elizabeth Tiffany Blair Mohr, at whose door the police had laid the death of her husband, Dr. C. Franklin Mohr.

The arrest of Mrs. Mohr, according to the police, followed admissions by George W. Healis, chauffeur for Dr. Mohr, C. Victor Brown, formerly employed a hostler at the physicians Newport estate, and Henry Spellman, a half brother of Brown, that she had hired them to assassinate her husband, upon whom she sought vengeance because of personal abuse coupled with his attentions to other women.

Fail to Corroborate Story.
For three days the officers have sought industriously for evidence to corroborate the published statements attributed to the three negroes. So far as made known they have met with little success.

Chief of Police Thomas F. Robbins, of Barrington, in whose district the murder was committed and who has immediate charge of the police investigation, when informed that the men had denied their guilt, admitted that so far as he knew none of them had ever signed a confession. The only signed statement obtained from them was one from Healis in which he expressed the opinion that the motive of the crime was robbery.

Mrs. Mohr, from the first has stoutly maintained her innocence and explained the murder by saying that Brown had a grudge against the doctor since his discharge from his employment at the Mohr home and that robbery probably was an added incentive for the killing.

Repudiation Is Voluntary.
Today's repudiation of the alleged confessions was made voluntarily by the three men and without the knowledge of counsel. It was made in the form of a statement given to a newspaper man who had been admitted to the jail yard by the warden. Summarized, their declaration was that they were wholly innocent of the crime as was Mrs. Mohr, so far as they knew; that they would be able to prove alibis; and that any alleged admissions were made under duress while they were subjected to "third degree" methods.

Mrs. Mohr, who is out on bail, and the three negroes, will be given a hearing September 16th.

U. S. COMPLETES BEAN CROP CENSUS.

Lansing, Mich., Sept. 4.—For the first time in history, the U. S. Department of Agriculture has taken a census of the bean crop of this state, where 75 per cent of the beans consumed in this country are grown. The report of the government experts will their report to the growers and the commission men next week, together with a report of the U. S. Bureau of Markets from Washington, and a price for the crop will be fixed. This price, will, it is believed, effectively drive all speculation out of the bean market. One price will rule the crop this fall. The growers' association and the owners of the elevators are parties to the agreement. A cash price will be fixed at which the growers will market their crops.

IN CHICAGO TODAY

J. J. Tobias Will Present Resolution Declaring Against the Shipment of War Munitions from This Country to European Belligerents.

Chicago, Sept. 4.—William Jennings Bryan and Dr. Washington Gladden will be speakers Monday before the friends of peace convention which opens tomorrow. It was announced today. Mr. Bryan, it was said would address the convention in the afternoon and probably would speak at a mass meeting in the evening. J. J. Tobias, chancellor of the Chicago law school and a member of the resolutions committee of the friends of peace, announced today he had prepared a resolution declaring against the shipment of war munitions from this country to European belligerents and urging congress to buy up all munitions factories so as to make such shipments impossible. Mr. Tobias said he would present the resolutions to the committee and that if that body failed to report on it he would bring it up in the convention.

John B. Walker, national chairman of the national society said tonight hundreds of delegates already were in Chicago and that hundreds more were expected tomorrow. The majority of members of the society, he said, were German-Americans but he wished it emphasized that the Friends of Peace society was not a pro-German organization.

MOTHER AND SON MEET AFTER LONG SEPARATION

Mrs. A. E. Evans Here to Visit Boy She Had Not Seen for Nineteen Years—Youth Is Living on Cain Farm.

Harry Gordon, who has been living on the Cain farm in the Arnold neighborhood for a number of years is enjoying a visit from his mother, Mrs. A. E. Evans of Kansas City. They have not met for nineteen years and it is only recently that the mother knew that her boy was alive and where he was living. Mrs. Evans was very near to death in the general hospital at Kansas City when her baby was taken from her and placed in an orphanage. It so happened that the mother did not die but she was in a serious condition for more than a year, and afterward she was unable to trace the whereabouts of her child because of some error in the records of the orphanage. Mrs. Evans had not had any large amount of money to spend in her search, but a few months ago she received money through the death of a relative in Germany and she was thus enabled to renew the search which she had so long delayed. As a result she located her son in this county and she immediately arranged to make him a brief visit. She was pleased to find that the young man had been placed in such a good home and wants him to remain.

Break Through Russ Lines.
Finding it impossible to make headway in their frontal attacks on the positions covering the fortresses of Dabno and Rovno, which are bases on Russian armies for their advance through Galicia, the Austrians are making an attempt to turn those positions from the south and claim that General Von Boehm-Ermolli has broken through the Russian lines.

There is no indication where the new Russian lines are but, from the strong defense, it is evident that they intend if possible to bring the Austro-Germans' offensive to a standstill not far east of where they are now offering a most stubborn resistance.

So far as the Russian armies are concerned, it is apparently that they are fairly safe from any encircling movement unless the Germans can quickly throw a strong force across the Dvina, southeast of Riga.

At present the Russians have behind them a large number of roads leading east and northeast and as they have proved themselves to be masters of retreat, military writers here are convinced that they will remain nowhere long enough to be caught. The rear guards of course, occasionally fall into the hands of the pursuers.

The French, British and Belgian artillery continue to bombard the German trenches and outposts in the west but his far the expected offensive has not developed and the designs of General Joffre, the French commander-in-chief are not disclosed.

A heavy fall of snow has added to the difficulties of the Italians and Austrians in the Alps. The invasion of Roumania by the Austro-Germans, with or without a declaration of war, is being discussed as a probability in the Balkan capitals and as no aid could be sent to her in men and munitions until the Dardanelles are opened, it is expected that the efforts to force the straights will be further increased by the armies and navies of the allies.

TAKE PRECAUTIONARY MEASUR

Guatemala City, Sept. 4.—Reports received here of a possible invasion of Guatemala by Guatemala revolutionists supported by the Carranza party in Mexico have caused the Guatemalan government to adopt precautionary measures and it is well prepared for any emergency that is likely to arise. Everything is quiet here and on the Mexican frontier and there is absolute unrest on this side of the line.

SCHOOONER IN DISTRESS.
Abbeiden, Wash., Sept. 4.—The Schooner Louise in the breakers on the bar of Gray's harbor, drifted in to deeper water late tonight and it was thought there would be a chance for tug to reach her and tow her to safety.

At last reports the crew of seven men were still on board.

RUSSIANS STIFFEN THEIR OPPOSITION

Germanic Allies Have to Fight Hard for Every Yard of Ground

CAPTURE BRIDGEHEAD

Teutons Take Position By Storm—Von Hindenburg's
Army Threatens Riga

SNOWFALL HINDERS ITALIANS

LONDON, Sept. 4.—Although they continue their retirement in some sectors and are being driven back in others, the Russians, on the whole, have stiffened their opposition to the Austro-German advance and the German allies now have to fight and fight hard for every yard of ground which they gain.

Away to the north, just below the gulf of Riga, a big battle is in progress for the possession of the River Dvina and the Germans now occupy the western bank between Lennawada, where they captured a bridgehead yesterday, and Friedricstadt, where another bridgehead was taken by storm today.

Von Hindenburg Threatens Riga.
These successes, if they can be carried to a conclusion by forcing a crossing of the Dvina, must result in the evacuation of the town of Riga, which already is being threatened from the west and south by Field Marshal Von Hindenburg's army. From Friedricstadt south to the Priape marshes the Russians and Germans are engaged in a series of battles and while the Russians by a counter offensive along the Dvina river and counter attacks at other points, are inflicting heavy losses on the pursuers, they are being pressed back and the town of Vilna, which has already been evacuated by the civilians, probably will soon be left behind by the Russian army.

To the south of the Priape marshes another series of battles is being fought. The Russians along the Sty and Sereth rivers are making a stubborn stand and the Austro-Hungarians, in whose ranks there is a strong leavening of Germans, are finding their way eastward barred on most of the front. They have, however, forced a crossing of the Sereth river at its junction with the Dniester, so that now a very narrow strip of Galicia remains in Russian hands.

Break Through Russ Lines.
Finding it impossible to make headway in their frontal attacks on the positions covering the fortresses of Dabno and Rovno, which are bases on Russian armies for their advance through Galicia, the Austrians are making an attempt to turn those positions from the south and claim that General Von Boehm-Ermolli has broken through the Russian lines.

EXCITING SCENES MARK CLOSE OF CONVENTION

CONSIDERATION OF ALL PROPOSED AMENDMENTS IS ENDED

President Root Adjourns New York Body Until Thursday With Friends and Goes Campaigning For a Vote on Minimum Wage Law.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 4.—New York's constitutional convention closed consideration of all proposed amendments today amid exciting scenes.

While friends and foes of the proposal to permit the legislature to enact a living wage law for women and children clamored for a vote on the measure, President Elihu Root, on the motion of Majority Leader Wickersham, declared the convention adjourned until next Thursday.

At that time consideration will be given only to the work of the revision committee and a vote on the wage proposition before the final adjournment probably Friday or Saturday will be impossible.

Republicans who are in the majority in the convention 116 to 52 will immediately launch a vigorous campaign in behalf of the new constitution.

It is considered extremely doubtful if the democrats will wage an organized fight against the new instrument.

The chief proposed amendments would provide for:
Shortening of the ballot so as to make the governor, lieutenant governor, attorney general and comptroller the only elective state officers.

An executive budget system.
Votes for women.

A broader power for cities in relation to regulating their local affairs and raising character.

Raising the annual salary of the governor from $10,000 to $20,000 a year and the salaries of legislators from $1,500 to $2,500 and railroad fare.

Bring victims of occupational diseases under the provisions of the workmen's compensation act.

Legislative re-appointment.
Among the proposals killed on the floor were those designed to abolish the dog penalty and establish a literacy test for voters.

BURY GEN. OROZCO.

El Paso, Texas, Sept. 3.—The funerals of General Pascual Orozco and four companions, killed in Texas last week, were held here today. The bodies, borne on a float, passed through streets which were lined with thousands of Mexicans who stood with bared heads while the cortege passed. Permission to bury Orozco in Mexico was declined by Orozco's family.

TO HUNT BIG GAME.

Oyster Bay, Sept. 3.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt plans to start tomorrow for a month's hunting trip in Canada, as he learned at his home here tonight. It is said that the colonel plans to meet Dr. Alexander Lambert, an old friend, while in Canada and that the two will hunt big game together.

CONSIDER JEWISH PROBLEM.

Monmouth, Ill., Sept. 4.—Methods of state authorities in suppressing an epidemic of the foot and mouth disease were attacked today at a protest meeting attended by 800 breeders and shippers of live stock. Resolutions of indignation were drafted and will be presented to Governor Dunne next Tuesday by a special committee.

SONS' PLEADINGS SAVE DEPUTY.

Victory, Tex., Sept. 4.—The story of how the pleading of his two small sons saved the life of Deputy Sheriff Federico Seams of Hidalgo county, when he was about to be shot by Mexican bandits, was told in a letter received here today from the deputy by his brother.

DECLARE MARTIAL LAW IN HAITI

Foreign Influences to Block Plans of United States Prompt Move

CAPERTON TAKES STEP

Government Will Not Be Displaced or Interfered With Unless Politicians Make Issue

EXPECT NO FURTHER DELAY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—Foreign influences in Haiti working to block plans of the United States to pacify the republic and rehabilitate its finances under American supervision, have necessitated declaration of martial law in Port au Prince, the capital and practically all but two of the country's open ports.

Will Not Disclose Information.
Rear-Admiral Caperton, acting within his general instructions, declared martial law today and explained that his action was taken because of a situation which was beyond the control of the local government. For reasons of international policy the state department will not disclose any of the information it has received bearing of the subject. There have recently been persistent reports of the activity of foreign agents and so marked has been the effect of their activities upon members of the Haitian congress and government that the state department found it necessary to hurry its policy of educating the people of Haiti to an appreciation of the benefits of American financial control with its protection against insistent foreign creditors.

France Approves Plans.
France is among the largest of Haiti's creditors, her citizens being said to have about $20,000,000 in Haitian national bonds, besides large mercantile and banking interests in the republic. France has not only refrained from opposing the development of the American policy, but Ambassador Jussarand yesterday assured the state department of French approval of any plans which would result in the establishment of a stable and responsible government in Haiti willing to discharge all proper obligations toward foreign nations.

The proposed treaty by which the United States was to act as a protector for Haiti against foreign creditors and set the republic in order, was ready for submission to the Haitian congress when signs of opposition developed in unexpected quarters. These are said to have been traced to foreign influences which were rapidly extended.

Caperton Fully Advised.
Admiral Caperton had been fully advised of the state department's plans, had received authority for their execution and it was unnecessary to issue any orders to him on the declaration of martial law.

It is said by officials that under martial law the navy's functions will be limited to maintenance of order and collections of customs for the present at least.

There will be no displacement of, or interference with the civil government unless Haitian politicians make an issue. On the other hand, it is expected there will be no further delay in consideration by the Haitian congress of the treaty which still is in the hands of the Haitian minister of foreign affairs.

Menos Asks Explanation.
Solon Menos, the Haitian minister asked Secretary Lansing today for an explanation of the seizure of the Haitian customs houses. He told Secretary Lansing he had received a communication from his government reporting that the customs houses had been seized by the United States and that there was much excitement among the Haitian people.

Secretary Lansing's reply was not disclosed.

Those citizens who are opposed to changing the city government to the aldermanic form will vote "no" in the coming election. The question will be so worded on the ballot that a "yes" vote will be for the change and a "no" vote against it. Women are now circulating cards to make this point plain. In previous campaigns most of the women have voted "yes" and so the canvassing committee now at work is laying special stress upon this point for fear that some of those opposed to the change will be confused and vote as they have in former elections.

Some Benefits from the War.
From the Boston Globe:

The war may bring lasting benefits to the United States if it leads us to utilize our wastes and develop our resources, in the German fashion. For instance, an expert chemist says that our coke industry wastes about $100,000,000 a year in by-products which form the crude material for aniline dyes, and that, while we import annually $15,000,000 worth of potash from Germany, off our Pacific coast, within the three-mile limit, we have deposits of kelp valued at $150,000,000 by government investigators, from which potash can be made.

The intensity of patriotic spirit and the vast amount of discussion as to military service prevalent in Europe is indicated by the recent case of a French lieutenant who committed suicide because of the hallucination that he had deserted the army. The lieutenant had been serving as clerk of the supreme court and in his capacity had been called upon to investigate many cases of desertion. It seems that the thought of desertion became so impressed upon his mind that the fear began to haunt him that later on he himself would be scorned as a deserter. The hallucination grew to such an extent that he imagined secret service officers were continually upon his trail, and this thought was on his mind as he was seated at home with his family when someone knocked at the door. Without waiting to learn who was without, the lieutenant rushed to an adjoining room and killed himself.

The motives of voters who oppose the change to the aldermanic form of government at the coming election will no doubt be varied. When the commission form was adopted many favored the change because of their belief in the underlying principles and because of reported success of the plan in other cities. Many voters of this class have seen no reason for changing their views and opinions.

Still other citizens voted for the commission form because they hoped it might prove superior to the aldermanic form and were willing to give it a trial. They are in the same state of mind now and do not believe that the commission form has been given long enough trial in Jacksonville to test its merits. In some future year, after a longer test they admit they might be willing to vote for the old form but they are particularly opposed to making a change now, just in the very beginning of an administration which gives promise of satisfactory government. That's a reasonable, sane point of view, isn't it?

May Test Civil Service Law.

The recent appointment of Michael Zimmer of Chicago to Joliet penitentiary has been coupled with a rumor that there is to be a shake up of all employees at the penitentiary. People were wondering if the new warden would maintain the honor system of which former Warden Allen was such an advocate and which has had the support of Governor Dunne. An announcement has been made that the same system is to be followed with some modifications. Thus the honor system has taken a second place in discussion importance and the question of appointments are appointive and others under civil service, and two of the employees holding important posts have recently declined to take civil service examinations. They are William Wickersham, superintendent of records, and Charles Loomis, formerly of this city, who is serving as auditor. He was appointed to the position during the Yates administration and has filled it acceptably since that time. In view of their refusal to take the examination, there are said to be a number of persons who have their eyes on these two particular jobs and the result is being watched with interest.

As James J. Hill Sees It.

James J. Hill, famous in railroad circles and as a financier, declares that while general business conditions in the northwest are quiet, there is an undertone of cheerfulness because of the very large crops. Mr. Hill finds that business conditions are such that very few people are venturing into new lines, but at the same time he finds general conditions satisfactory for the reason already given. Mr. Hill is not one of those who believe that higher prices will come for grain, and is of the opinion that the farmers who are holding grain for higher prices are doomed to disappointment.

His idea of the grain situation is: Europe will want 550,000,000 bushels in round numbers. Of this, the United States can supply 325,000,000 bushels, Canada 125,000,000 and Argentina 100,000,000, making the full 550,000,000. But the 1914 Black Sea crop totaled 120,000,000 bushels, and the 1915 crop is estimated at 130,000,000. The opening of the Dardanelles would release this grain to Western Europe. In addition, India and Australia, between them, could export 50,000,000 bushels. Including the grain from the Western hemisphere, and the Black Sea crop, this makes a grand total of 850,000,000 bushels, or 300,000,000 more than Europe will need.

The Perils of Authorship.

The sad financial results which often attend authorship have been revealed again in the application made by Lillian Bell in a bankruptcy court. Lillian Bell, whose real name is Lillian Bell Bogue, has been a writer of some fame, and in a recent statement she says that she has earned during these years at least $100,000 from her pen. Be that as it may, the schedule she has filed shows liabilities of more than $20,000 and assets of about $500. The author explains that her financial condition is the result of the action of her husband, from whom she was divorced a year ago, and declares that as an endorser for his paper she lost most of her money and incurred the obligations from which she is now seeking freedom. Incidentally she expresses the belief that what has been done can be done again and that she will write another $100,000 worth in the next few years and then pay up all the debts, she owes, even if freed from legal responsibility. No doubt Mrs. Bogue's creditors will earnestly hope that her dreams will come true.

Ban on War Talk.

As a precautionary measure the Pennsylvania railroad has recently issued an order prohibiting a discussion of the European war in their shops. The company has shops at Altoona, Pa., where more than ten thousand men are employed and a great many nationalities are represented. Thus far there has not been much evidence of feeling among the foreign foreign workers, but as several industries in which foreigners are employed have been interfered with because of differences among the workmen, the Pennsylvania order was issued.

It has been found in other cases that the serious trouble has usually had a very insignificant beginning, nothing more than the expression of opinion. Notwithstanding this order and the trouble which has been noted in a few instances, it is considered remarkable that, taken as a whole, there has been so little violent partisanship shown in the United States—in this country known as the melting pot of the nations, in which European countries are so largely represented by immigrants.

Represent All the People.

There is nothing to the argument that the commission form of government cannot be as representative as the aldermanic form. Under the commission form the people first select ten candidates out of the field and then choose five from the ten to serve them. In the last election if there had been any special feeling that the candidates should be chosen for commissioner in accordance with their residence location the people could have been trusted to unite their efforts and see that their will was carried into effect.

But in the last primary and regular election the voters in the first and second wards gave more support to candidates from other wards than they did residents of their own localities. It can be assumed that they expressed their preference along this line because they believed the men to whom they were giving their support were the best fitted for public service.

It so happens that in the present council that all of the members live in the second and fourth wards, but in the matter of lighting, water service and public improvements, even in the limited time which has elapsed since the officers began their work, they have given just as much attention to the needs of the east part of the city as they have to the west part. The present officers, because of the vote and support given them from all parts of the city, feel equally obligated to all. This same feeling actuates any good citizen, for it is, indeed, a narrow minded local patriotism that would seek to improve one part of the city and neglect the other. The argument that a change of government is needed at this time because the first and third wards have no one to represent or serve them is not founded upon facts.

HAVE LEASED PLAZA HOTEL.

Ballard-Johnson Will Have Management of New Hostelry.

Announcement came from Springfield Saturday evening that Ballard and Johnson of that city have leased the new Plaza hotel. When the work of remodeling the hotel began it was the intention of John Vieira to run it. His death caused a change in the plans. The Reisch company had a number of offers for the lease and have been considering the matter for several days. Messrs. Ballard and Johnson already had secured the lease of the restaurant in connection with the hotel.

The past week Mr. Ballard visited the city to look after some matters pertaining to the decoration of the room which is to be used for the restaurant. While here he went over the hotel with Messrs. Maurer and Bettinghaus representing the Reisch company. Plans were then made for utilizing the rooms over the office of Mr. Vieira. This will give the hotel forty-five first-class rooms. Arrangements also were made with E. J. Howels for the installation of a telephone exchange in the hotel which will give a telephone in every room. Messrs. Ballard and Johnson have had a wide experience in the hotel and restaurant business. They have railroad eating houses in many Illinois cities.

RETURN FROM CALIFORNIA.

Mrs. Thomas Willerton and daughter, Iela, have returned from a ten weeks trip to California. They spent most of the time at San Francisco visiting the exposition and were also in Oakland. They were greatly interested in seeing the Praesideo, where 10,000 troops are encamped and the old church erected in 1774 which was about the only church edifice not leveled by the earthquake. Mrs. Willerton's son, Jennings Bryan, accompanied her to California and will remain in Monrovia for the benefit of his health. Enroute home the tourists stopped at Tennessee Pass, 10,402 feet above sea level. While in San Francisco Mrs. Willerton bought a Panama parrot which she had expressed here and the bird arrived yesterday in good condition.

This is the MOST REMARKABLE POWDER we have ever sold. It has been sold in America only a short time.

It is a powder that can be mixed with water and applied as a liquid for evening wear. IT DOES NOT SHOW. It stays on until you wash it off. It contains no rice to enlarge the pores, no chalk to dry the skin, nor any lead to make black heads.

ARMAND'S POWDER IS LUXURIOUS, its texture is soft and very creamy, its perfume is exquisite, delicate and persistent. Armand's Face powder is not expensive. Because of its extreme fineness, a very little spreads much further than any other. ALL TINTS AND ONLY 50C A BOX.

REV. EVERETT MARTIN DEFENDANT
IN A DIVORCE SUIT

Wife Charges Former Minister With Cruel and Inhuman Treatment—Large Alimony Asked.

Des Moines, Iowa, papers recently contained a dispatch from New York telling of a divorce suit filed against Rev. Everett D. Martin by his wife, Mrs. Esther K. Martin. Mr. Martin, whose home was formerly in Jacksonville, was first a Congregational minister and subsequently became a Unitarian. It seems that a few months ago he gave up the ministry to enter newspaper work and has been in New York City. His last charge was the First Unitarian church of Des Moines, and he gained quite a reputation in that city as an orator and writer. Mr. and Mrs. Martin were married at Oak Park, where the minister was stationed before going to his Iowa charge. Continued and inhuman cruelty is the charge on which the suit is based, and Mrs. Martin asks for $50,000 alimony and the custody of their three children. According to the bill filed Mr. and Mrs. Martin have been living apart for some time.

Dispatches tell of a moving picture shown recently in New York which showed the use of twilight sleep in child birth. Three sensations were reported from the north end of the city last week, but no arrests were made. The first was a family row in which the son-in-law kicked his mother-in-law out of the house. MEXICAN POLITICS WILL BE GIVEN AIRING

Some Inside History Likely to be Unfolded in New York Trial.

New York, Sept. 3.—Mexican politics, with deep-laid plots and counter-plots, are expected to be laid bare in the New York courts next week, when the State of Yucatan will be given a hearing in its injunction suit to prevent the spending of its treasury balance alleged to have been carried off by a former Governor. The erstwhile governor, who sports a fast auto and is living in regal style with his family, claims the money he is spending is his own, and that the suit is blackmail.

The State of Yucatan appealed to the State of New York last month for legal aid in its share of the troubled Mexican situation last month when it applied a Supreme Court Justice Shearn to restrain Gen. Abel Ortiz Arguendo, recently autonomous Governor of Yucatan from spending the contents of the Yucatan treasury, which it is charged he took with him when he sailed away from his troubled land last March.

The action was brought in the name of the State of Yucatan, through Manuel Yrigoyen Azara, who was Secretary of State of Yucatan when Arguendo was governor, and who was sent to this country to buy arms and ammunition to enstate against all outsiders.

Gen. Arguendo has stated that he did take the cash balance, amounting to $442,000 in American gold, but that he left it in the branch of the Royal Bank of Canada at Havana, Cuba. He also vigorously states that the money he is now spending is part of the $150,000, which is his private fortune. The former Governor says he is "protecting" the cash of Yucatan and will take back the funds when a stable government is established.

Soon after reaching here in April, Gen. Arguendo opened an office as an importer, and established his family in an apartment. He bought an expensive motor car and had his name embossed on the machine. He was away from the troubles of his native land, he has dipped into the luxuries of American life. And all this is at his own expense. He says, Senior Yrigoyen, however, declares that Arguendo is not spending his own money, because he never had any.

Whether the Supreme Court of New York has the power to act in the case will be argued next week. Under a temporary injunction recently granted, the New York branch of the Royal Bank of Canada is restrained from honoring any checks of Gen. Arguendo, or his friend, Jose Cruz Vallado, former paymaster at Yucatan, who is living at New Rochelle.

Senior Yrigoyen, who has lived in Merida, capital of Yucatan, for 49 years, and is described as one of the leading citizens of the State, brought the injunction action through a New York lawyer. He is seeking to have an accounting of the funds, and suitable protection against their dissipation, rather than to bring criminal proceedings.

An interesting side-light in the case is the charge that before Gen. Arguendo left Yucatan, he gave 200,000 pesos to one Senora Loreto Cantillo de Manzanillo, who took the money and departed for Havana.

Gen. Arguendo claims to be still the governor of Yucatan. He characterizes the charges as blackmail, and says they were made following his refusal to give money to the former Secretary of State for furthering the latter's political fortunes. "Yrigoyen became angry when I refused him money," he said, "and I was obliged to deposit him from office, to which I had appointed him. I now have reason to believe that he is acting as an agent of Gen. Carranza. There are about 80 Yucatanos in New York, all of whom support me in my course."

JOHN H. WHISMAN HAS HAD AN EVENTFUL LIFE

Resident of Bethel Neighborhood Served in Rebel Army Against His Will.

Residing in the vicinity of Bethel is a respected gentleman, John W. Whisman, who has had an eventful life. He was born in the beautiful valley of the Shenandoah, Va., where such an important part of the great civil war took place. His home was near Staunton and his father was a carpenter, a worthy, industrious citizen.

When the war broke out there were a good many people in that vicinity who were true to the union and Mr. Whisman's father was one of them, and he never changed his faith but he had several sons and as fast as they matured they were conscripted into the rebel army. One of them was taken in 1861 and another a year later though their hearts were not with the lost cause.

The father refused to espouse the rebel cause and was imprisoned in 1863 and after being in duressville for six months managed to make his escape and went to Ohio and finally settled in the region of Springfield, that state. The mother and three sons were left behind as it was impossible to bring them along as they were closely watched.

In 1864 the subject of this sketch was deemed old enough to fight the cause of the south and was drafted into the rebel army and forced against his will to carry a gun and fight against the union forces. His oldest brother managed to get away from the rebel army, went north and enlisted in the union army and very soon after the end of the war was honorably discharged and finally died a few years ago in a soldiers' home in Cleveland.

The second brother also got away from the secession army and made his way north. He now lives in Kansas.

Rebel service was not all to the liking of the union boy but he had to stand it along with a lot more of the same opinion. They were not at once sent to the front but were made to do guard duty and the like and they took part in several skirmishes. After serving five or six months, in company with thirteen others he managed to desert the rebel army and they made their way to the union lines at Greenland Gap, and the sight of the stars and stripes was truly welcome. They had some close calls from some of the rebel army who were after them but they made their getaway and scattered. Mr. Whisman managed to get across the Ohio river and joined his father and as soon as they could accumulate enough money, the war being over, he went back after his mother and younger brothers whom he found at the old place and getting along after a fashion, poor enough.

The reunion of the family was indeed a happy one and together all went to work to acquire the good things of life and they were measurably successful.

Some years later Mr. Whisman came to Illinois where he has resided a long time and has accumulated a good property and is a highly respected citizen.

OKLAHOMA TOURISTS

W. A. Davis and family in their Studebaker car and D. E. Lineberry and family and Mrs. Chas. M. Taylor in their Ford car were transient visitors in the city Saturday. Six weeks ago they passed through this city enroute to various cities in Ohio and Indiana, and yesterday were on the return trips to their homes in Nowata, Okla. The roads today are fine in comparison with their rain soaked condition of six weeks since. The tourists camp out at night having their tents and camping outfit with them and are enjoying life as they go.

W. J. Shaulding and family have removed their place of residence from 413 West College avenue to Carrollton, where he will engage in business with his brother-in-law.

THE FRESHMAN.

The annual fresh man crop of this country is now about ready for picking. Like oranges and other tropical fruit, freshmen are picked when they are green. One hundred thousand young men will enter the colleges of the land this fall and very few of them will know enough to refrain from buying season tickets for the chapel when requested to do so by polite sophomores.

They will apply to the janitor for enrollment in his Greek classes and will try to buy brides for Latin ponies and will perform many other quaint and amusing tricks. It is pitiful to think that young men brought up in tender families should know so little. However it is a waste of time to drop tears over the ignorance of the freshmen. In a year he will be asophom ore and then he will know more than Aristotle did.

Freshmen will come to college this fall from magnificent high schools and will know so much that isn't required by the upper classmen that they will have to spend weeks in the bathtub with their clothes on, getting the superluous intelligence soaked out of them. Freshmen will also enter from the remote back counties where the rural mail delivery is a dream of the future. They will wear peculiar pants and shoes which bulge in the wrong place; and they will have peach fuzz on their chins and their coats will only fit in the button-holes; and they will collide with their own feet when addressing young women and will swallow their Adam's apple and become incoherent about the ears when a stranger addresses them.

These perspiring young men will be regarded with much scorn by the students who learned how to collar and throw a dress suit before they entered grammar school. They will not be invited to parties and will lead neglected lives and will be compelled to study all night for amusement. Instead of leading the grand march in a pearl-finished vest which set father back $17, they will have to take the valedictory and other honors for amusement and go to Congress and the Senate in order to wipe out the memory of their sad college days.

And will the kid-finished scions of aristocracy scorn them then? NO, dear friends. They will speak of them lovingly as "My old college chum," and will go to visit them in Washington and will even borrow money from them if the stock market has backed-fired.

This is a truly noble spirit. We should never look with scorn upon a cabinet minister or a bank president because he was once a scatter-footed freshman with red wrists and a taste for Latin instead of for fox-trots.

Great Old Remedy For Skin Diseases

S. S. S. Clears Skin of Eruptions Drives Poison From the System.

Get it fixed in your mind that skin eruptions, Scrofula, Eczema, burning itching skin, and all skin diseases are due entirely to impure and infected blood. If the trouble was on the outside of the skin, by simply washing and keeping it clean you could obtain relief—not even ointments, lotions, and salves, would be necessary. Agree with us in this belief, and your trouble can be relieved—you can be entirely restored to health. S. S. S. is a purely vegetable treatment that you can secure from your own druggist—it is a blood tonic that will purify your blood and cause a most decided abatement of your trouble, and finally make you entirely well. Fifty years ago S. S. S. was discovered and given to suffering mankind. During this period it has proven its remarkable curative properties as a blood purifier and tonic, and has relieved thousands of cases of disease caused by poor or impure blood, and chronic or inherited blood diseases. You can be relieved, but you must take S. S. S. Take it if only pimples appear, for they denote bad blood, and may be followed by the sufferings from torturing skin eruptions. Therefore be sure. HANDLING DAMP WHEAT

BY MIXING.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 3.—Much of the new crop of wheat as delivered from the farm this year has a high moisture content which if put into storage without special treatment is very likely to cause trouble by becoming musty and hot.

By mixing high-moisture and low-moisture wheat together, a method whereby part of the damp wheat of this year's crop can be put into good condition was demonstrated in an experiment at Baltimore which was directed by a grain standardization specialist of the Department of Agriculture in connection with the General Manufacturing company of that same city.

The experiment described was performed to determine if it would be possible or feasible to handle damp wheat in such a way that it would not be necessary to put it through a commercial drier and yet insure its keeping safely in storage or during shipment.

For this experiment one car of Pacific Coast white wheat containing 1098 bushels was mixed with one car of Eastern red winter wheat containing 1126 bushels, and put into storage in an elevator bin. On July 29, samples taken from the white wheat while it was still in the car tested 8.7 per cent in moisture. Samples taken from the red wheat on July 31 while this wheat was also still in the car tested 15.1 per cent. These wheats were thoroughly mixed on August 3 and the mixture was then put into storage in an elevator bin and allowed to remain there until August 6, when it was transferred to another bin. Samples taken from the wheat at the time it was transferred tested 12.9 per cent moisture for the red wheat and 12.2 per cent for the white wheat. The wheat was allowed to remain in the second bin until August 10 when it was transferred to a third bin. Samples taken at this time showed that the moisture content of the red wheat was 12.5 per cent and of the white wheat, 12.0 per cent. While the grain was still in the cars the red wheat tested higher in moisture by 5.4 per cent than the white wheat. By August 6, or three days after the wheats were moved, enough of the moisture from the damp wheat had been transferred to the dry wheat so that the difference in their moisture content at that time was only seven-tenths of one per cent. By August 10, or one week after the wheats had been mixed, the difference in their moisture contents had been reduced to only one-half of one per cent.

In order to have a record of the temperature changes in the grain during this experiment, four electrical thermometers were placed at different depths in the bin into which the mixture was run. No appreciable change in temperature was noticed during the transfer of the moisture from the red to the white wheat.

The mixing of damp and dry wheat will facilitate the handling of the wet wheat this year. The miller who buys wet wheat and has some dry wheat to mix with it can obviate some of the extra work in handling the damp wheat to keep it in condition and also get it in shape for milling by mixing the two wheats together for a few days. This will also do away with part of the extra work in drying. One car of wheat can be dried down to a low moisture content and then mixed with another car of high moisture content wheat and time and labor be saved. If the mills or elevators are equipped so that they can mix and dry at the same time, this method will greatly increase their capacity for taking care of large quantities of damp wheat.

GREAT TRACTION SHOWING.

Illinois farmers are recognizing and feeling their need for more power on their high priced lands.

They showed their decidedly strong bent in this direction by turning out to the tune of over 50,000 strong and trawling the tractors at the Middle West Tractor Farming Demonstration at Bloomington, last week organized and held under the auspices of The Farmers' Review.

The demonstration was a gigantic success from every angle. It was the most comprehensive display of machinery entered at any meet this year. Over 100 tractors, of 26 different makes, 150 plows and a number of other farm implements, presented an array that was astounding. A number of tractor firms which so far had declined to enter other meets were entered in the Bloomington show, and the large crowds who attended the meet were not in the least disappointed.

The entire week the tractor demonstrations were run off in mechanical regularity. Orendorff Springs had a metropolitan atmosphere with crossing flagmen both at the inter-urban and railroad crossings. In a long string of tents was housed the greatest variety of farm machinery that has ever been accumulated in a farming district of this country. The officials were high in their praise over the enthusiasm shown, and state that it is far ahead of anything of its kind ever before attempted.

Fifteen hundred automobiles were checked through one day and facilities were offered each day to park along the edges of the field being plowed.

James A. Scott of Hubbard Woods, is in the city to spend Sunday with relatives.

WOMAN'S COLLEGE NOTES.

The College is just about to receive its numerous family, in fact some of them are already beginning to come in. The prospect for the opening of school is good, and it looks as if there will be a larger attendance again this year than we had a year ago.

Many of the faculty have been doing special study or teaching during the summer, and write that they are coming back to make this the best year that the College has ever had. Miss Johnston, Miss Neville, Miss Mary Anderson and Miss McLaughlin have been taking special courses at the University of Chicago. Mrs. Kolp has been doing special work in Chicago in Harmony and Theoretical Music. Mr. Stearns has spent part of the summer with his family at Castle Park, but has been doing considerable work in preparation for a recital which he hopes to give early in the year. Miss Walker, of the Home Economics Department, spent the summer in a trip to Alaska and with friends in San Francisco and in Wisconsin. Mrs. Ellis, the new head of the English Department, has taught at the Charleston Normal in the summer session; Miss Hay has been at Bay View.

President and Mrs. Harker have invited the teachers to a faculty dinner next Saturday evening, at which time the entire faculty of thirty-four instructors are expected to be present.

There is a large delegation this year of the students at the Y. W. C. A. Student Conference at Lake Geneva, just now closing. The Y. W. C. girls expects to be back two or three days before the opening and make all their plans for the reception of new students. The association has issued a very helpful booklet for the information of new girls.

Monday and Tuesday, September 13 and 14, are registration days. The first chapel exercise will be at nine o'clock on Wednesday.

Several friends during the summer have remembered the library in donations of books and magazines, and Miss Thompson the librarian, has been busy for some days putting the library into first class order for the opening of school.

COLLEGE STUDENTS

SEEK WORK.

Several young men and young women who expect to attend Illinois College this fall are looking for opportunities to work in order to earn a part of their expenses. The boys will do work of almost any kind out of school hours and the girls will help in household duties. Persons interested should call President Rammelkamp, both phones 454.

BRAKEMAN HAD FOOT BADLY CRUSHED.

J. C. Wells Sustained Injury When He Kicked Couplin Into Place.

While the train crew of a Chicago and Alton freight train was doing some switching near the coal chute at Tullula Saturday forenoon, J. C. Wells one of the brakemen met with a severe injury to his right foot. It appears that the coupling did not connect properly and Mr. Wells attempted to kick the pin into place when his foot was caught between the bumpers and was crushed. The injured man was at once taken from his perilous position and the local physician of the road, Dr. R. E. Valentine of Tullula was hurriedly summoned. He gave the necessary attention to the injury and accompanied the patient to Passavant hospital, where Dr. C. E. Black, the surgeon of the road, made further examination and gave the necessary attention. An amputation is being made to save the injured member but it is too soon to say what the outcome will be.

Mr. Wells resides in Bloomington, where he has a wife and little child. He is highly spoken of by his associates on the road, who did all that was possible for his relief after his accident.

THIEVES ENTER HALL.
Captain J. A. Mace, head of the local Salvation Army, was much surprised Wednesday morning on entering the Salvation Army hall to find that thieves or a thief had stolen his brass cornet. The captain had through oversight, left the instrument in the hall at the close of the services Sunday night, and thinking the horn was in his home, did not discover its loss until last Wednesday. Capt. Mace has not been in the habit of locking the door to the hall and was rather too trusting in this regard it seems. The captain will be very grateful if the "gentleman" who took the horn will return the same, after he is through using it.

RETURN FROM AUTO TRIP THROUGH THE EAST

A. A. Curry and Family Visited Many Points of Interest on 3000 Mile Journey.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Curry and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Curry have returned from a three weeks automobile trip in the east. The trip was made in their White gas car. The party on the going trip went by way of Indianapolis, thence to Buffalo, Albany and down the banks of the Hudson to New York City. In New York city several trips were made to the many points of interest in that vicinity. This included a trip to the top of the Woolworth building which is the highest in the world.

On leaving New York city they journeyed to Baltimore. Then Mr. Curry's father, who was killed in the civil war is buried. Mr. Curry had never been to Baltimore before and took his opportunity to visit the cemetery and locate his father's grave. From Baltimore they journeyed to Washington where they spent several days visiting all of the places of interest. While in Washington they attended church at the Second Presbyterian church where President Wilson worships. The president attended church on that day and they found him in manner and appearance just like any ordinary American citizen.

The famous battle ground of Gettysburg also was visited as was Wheeling, W. Va. The return trip was made over the Cumberland and Allegheny mountains and the party found this the most delightful part of their tour. The roads in the mountains were excellent. But little bad weather was encountered and the party returned by way of Columbus, Ohio and back through Indianapolis, Ind. They traveled all told 3,000 miles and had practically no trouble except the wearing out of tires.

HAD NARROW ESCAPE.

Phillip Grant, who is employed in the carpenter shop at the Car shops had a narrow escape from death Saturday morning when a bullet from a .38 calibre revolver or rifle knocked a piece of lumber out of his hands. Mr. Grant in company with several other employees was engaged in carrying lumber from the yard into the shop. Grant had just picked up one end of a piece of pine when a bullet struck it. The bullet passed passed behind his right arm and body and embedded itself in the piece of timber to a depth of over an inch. It also knocked a piece of wood loose which struck Grant in the face.

It is thought that the shot was fired from the old Alton stock yards which are located near the car shops. There have been a number of tramps hanging around there and it is thought that some of them were shooting at a mark or something. After the incident Grant went to the wards out the men who were there denied that anyone had been shooting.

WOMAN COULD NOT SIT UP

Now Does Her Own Work.
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her.

Ironton, Ohio.—"I am enjoying better health now than I have for twelve years. When I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I could not sit up. I had female troubles and was very nervous. I used the remedies a year and I can do my work and for the last eight months I have worked for other women, too. I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound enough for I know I never would have been as well if I had not taken it and I recommend it to suffering women."

Daughter Helped Also.
"I gave it to my daughter when she was thirteen years old. She was in school and was a nervous wreck, and could not sleep nights. Now she looks so healthy that even the doctor speaks of it. You can publish this letter if you like."—Mrs. RENA BOWMAN, 161 S. 10th Street, Ironton, Ohio.

Why will women continue to suffer day in and day out and drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

FACTS ABOUT PLOWING STUBBLE ARE GIVEN

Government Report on Subject Gives Interesting Comparisons—Heavy Rains Sometimes Make Fall Plowing Advisable.

(U. S. Report.)

The average yield of spring crops, such as wheat, oats and corn in the Great Plains area, from spring and from fall plowing, show that the blind following of a rule prescribing any particular time of plowing might cause a reduction as often as it does an increase in the yields. The great variation in the time and amount of precipitation in this region must be constantly kept in mind when considering the time of plowing. No dependence can be placed on a heavy precipitation in August and September, yet it frequently occurs. As moisture is considered the most important factor in crop production in the Great Plains area, its conservation is the primary object in cultivation.

Stubble, weeds and uneven ground are common means of retaining snow and holding a large part of the winter precipitation. In deciding when a field should be plowed, the question of whether a greater amount of moisture will be accumulated by holding the snow that falls than will be dissipated by the growth of weeds is paramount. It must be decided by the man on the ground. In answering this question several factors must be considered, namely, the amount of moisture already in the soil that may be lost through weed growth, the probable time before the weeds will be killed by frost, the possibilities of increasing the water in storage in the soil by holding the snow that may come, the danger of soil blowing if the stubble and weeds are removed, and the distribution of farm labor. The important Bulletin No. 253, The Effect of Different Times of Plowing Small-grain Stubble in Eastern Colorado. The major portion of the bulletin is given to a description of the time of plowing for spring wheat, but is as applicable to oats and corn. The experiments were performed at Akron (Colo.) field station, but the deductions are general and useful throughout the entire Great Plains area.

It was found that there was a wider variation in the precipitation of the fall and winter, when the moisture should be stored, than during the growing months. Rains in August and early September invariably produce a growth of weeds, which usually exhaust the valuable moisture supply. The loss of moisture which has penetrated to a greater depth than 3 inches, after the weeds are dead in the fall and before growth starts in the spring, is almost negligible. Either from land fall plowed or from that covered with stubble light precipitation evaporates unless it falls as snow, which is blown into drifts until a considerable quantity has accumulated. As 10 inches of light snow are equivalent to only 1 inch of rain, and 1 inch of rain penetrates the soil to a depth of 6 inches, it will be readily seen that snows of 1 to 2 inches supply a very small amount of moisture, a greater part of which will be lost by evaporation. Every effort should be made, therefore, to conserve the moisture which falls either while the crop is on the land or while the land is lying idle.

Early fall rains will be used by weeds unless the land is cultivated. Heavy winter snows may occur, but they are likely to blow off the fields unless there is either stubble or an uneven surface to hold them. The time and method of cultivation, then, should be planned to prevent weed growth and still leave the soil or stubble in such a condition that it will hold the maximum snow. However, the period when labor is available will also be an important factor in determining the time of plowing. When labor is scarce, cultivation other than plowing which will kill weeds and can be done rapidly may be resorted to. If this cultivation leaves the stubble on the surface or leaves the surface rough enough to hold the snow, it may be of even greater value than plowing. Disking or listing in the fall are the methods most commonly used.

The amount of moisture in the ground in the spring is only one of the factors in producing grain crops. Weeds growing with the crop may use enough water to decrease the grain yield. It was found that fall plowing at the Akron station is especially favorable to weeds starting with the grain. Plowing in the spring, however, thoroughly eliminates the weeds, and if done immediately before seeding gives the grain crop a start before the weeds commence to grow. The ideal cultivation would prevent weed growth in the fall, leave the land in such condition as to retain the maximum snow in the winter, and retard the germination of weed seed until the crop starts in the spring.

Possibly this may be accomplished by disking in the fall and plowing in the spring, or listing in the fall and burning the ridges in the spring may be more practicable. Early fall plowing is effective in that it destroys weeds which use the early fall precipitation, but it does not leave the land in a condition to retain the snow in the winter, and it gives the weeds an opportunity to start before the crop.

In deciding the time to plow, the advantages and disadvantages of both spring plowing and fall plowing must be taken into consideration. Heavy rains in August indicate that fall plowing should be done, as the gain of moisture during the winter by the stubble land probably would not equal the loss of moisture taken by the weeds in the fall. If only light rains occur, however, the moisture in the soil produced by these rains probably would be more than offset by the greater quantity of snow held by the stubble during the winter, and the reduction of the weeds in the crop. Spring plowing would then be better. The availability of labor in the fall will influence the amount of plowing done, but a greater effort should be made to do the plowing if there is heavy precipitation than if the rainfall is light. The only advantage in late fall plowing is that the amount of spring labor in preparing the seed bed is reduced. This advantage, however, may be offset by reduction in the yield.

In deciding when a field should be plowed the question of whether a greater amount of water will be accumulated from snow than will be taken up by weeds is the greatest question to be decided, and this also must be done by the man on the ground.

HYPHENATED PEACE CONFERENCE AT CHICAGO

Chicago, Sept. 4.—Charges that a preconceived plot to involve the United States in the European war has been hatched by American capitalists; that American newspapers are supporting this effort to embroil the country, and that subtle influences are at work to create an unneutral sentiment in America, will be made at the peace convention to be opened here tomorrow by the "Friends of Peace." The organizations represented in the new "peace" movement are the American-Irish-American, Hungarian-American and Austro-American societies that have been campaigning for an embargo on the shipment of arms and ammunition to Europe. Their original propaganda remains in the programme which will be advanced tomorrow. The call for the convention reads:

"The object of the convention will be to voice the existing overwhelming sentiment against America's participation in the present world conflict, to demonstrate the falsity of the claim set up by the jingo press that it represents public opinion, to reaffirm our principles of strict neutrality, and to urge the early convening of Congress for the purpose of considering an embargo on the exportation of war supplies to belligerents during the present war and enacting such other legislation as may be deemed advisable to bring the war to a speedy termination."

The 1916 Haynes is Here with Many New Refinements

COME see the 1916 Haynes—the same wonderful car that was the sensation of last season—the car that still dominates the "light six" field. Many new refinements have been added for your comfort and convenience.

The bodies are big and roomy, with deep rolls of soft upholstery. Real hand-buffed leather is used. Individual, adjustable front seats are used on both the five and seven passenger models. The front doors are retained so that entrance may be had directly to the front compartment.

THE HAYNES
America's Greatest "Light Six"

The two auxiliary seats used in the seven passenger model disappear entirely into the floor when not in use.

The three passenger roadster is of the clover leaf design, containing three individual seats with form fitting upholstery. The center seat is dropped back and an aisleway is left between the forward seats. An unusual amount of carrying space is provided.

Self-lubricating springs are used in the chassis. Helical bevel drive gears are used in the rear axle. The equipment includes a Waltham clock, Boyce Moto-Meter, trouble lamp, automatic circuit breaker to take the place of fuses, Sparton horn and non-skid tires on the rear. Over size tires on the seven passenger model.

WORLD'S MARKET NEWS

GENERAL SELLING DRIVES WHEAT TO LOWEST PRICES OF THE CROP
TRADING IN STOCKS BECOMES ACTIVE IN LATTER PART OF SESSION

Market at the Close Shows a Net Loss of 1 1/2 to 2 Cents—Corn Follows Wheat—Oats Decline.

Chicago, Sept. 4.—Wheat today was driven to lowest prices for the crop on general selling by commission houses and local pit traders, the market at the close showing a net loss of 1 1/2 to 2 cents with September at 94c December at 90 3/4c and May at 89c.

Corn followed wheat short covering for profits being the only support given the market which closed with September at 1 1/4c at 70 1/2c and with December down 3/4c at 57 1/2c.

Oats declined 3/4c to 1 1/2c net. Wheat was under bear influence throughout the session. The domestic and foreign price making factors were nearly all of a character to send prices down. Many holders faced with a double holiday before trading is again resumed—Sunday and the Labor day holiday on Monday, on which the board will hold no session will hold freely to protect themselves over the closed period. There was a fair export business but in the face of the determined bear sentiment, this had little or no effect.

There was considerable commission house selling of corn and prices receded steadily for almost the entire session. The cash market was weak and this had its effect in lowering values on futures.

Oats partook of the easy feeling in other grains.

Foreign exchange was a negligible factor there being virtually no dealings in remittances to Europe except a few bills on London for which a rate of 4.66 was quoted. This was a fraction easier than yesterday's close. Nothing more was heard about the foreign credit projects now under consideration and definite details concerning this important undertaking are likely to be withheld until the arrival in this country of the British and French financial delegations.

Among the day's railway returns for July were Great Northern, showing a loss of $545,000 with a net gain of $822,000 for Norfolk & Western.

General trade reports were more favorable, the middle west and north-west showing greater activity in retail lines, these being stimulated by wheat crop prospects.

Local banks failed to make the predicted large cash gain, despite the heavy gold inflow, the actual increase being only about $3,000,000. A reserve increase of $4,200,000 increased the excess reserves breaking total of almost $21,000,000.

Efficient Housekeeping

BY HENRIETTA D. GRAVEL.

LAUNDERING PRETTY THINGS.

HENRIETTA D. GRAVEL

"It is delightful to get home from vacations, but it is something of a shock to find the house furnishings looking positively dingy when the last thing we did was to clean everything thoroughly," lamented the new housekeeper, in the end terrace, over the way.

"Your things should not look dingy; you only began housekeeping in June," remarked her next door neighbor in a questioning way.

"Well," answered the other, "it's the fancy things, embroideries, and coverlets that have to be laundered that I am worried about. They are too fine to send out to be done, and I don't think I am strong enough to do any washing."

"If you would use your brains when washing, and not your muscles, you would find strength has nothing to do with the matter. Maybe it had once when heavy homespun had to be washed with sudsap and no conveniences, but not now," said the older woman after she had sniffed in a disdainful way at least twice.

Then she continued: "When you wash don't be stingy with your equipment; of course you have a laundry in your basement, but many women have not. It is no use 'making things do'; what you want is a strong, white laundry soap. Shave one bar into hot water and boil it until it dissolves and to every quart of it add one tablespoon of ammonia.

"Now don't think you have to rub the dirt out; put this suds into half a tub of water and squeeze the soiled places. Colored embroideries cannot be soaked, but the white counterpanes and linens will not be harmed by it.

"Then the rinsing is important; use several waters and get all the suds out; shake the article and by all means hang them out of doors to dry. It is a mighty foolish pride that makes anyone, with an out-door drying space, hang their belongings to dry in a basement or attic. Bright sunshine and fresh air are more important than the opinions of your neighbors.

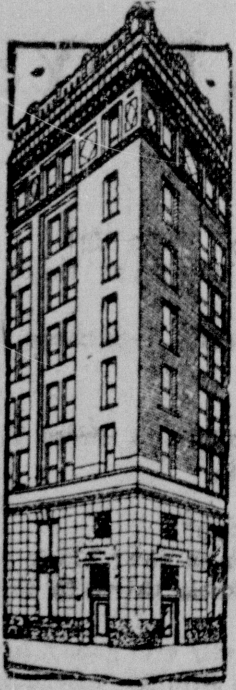

"When you get ready to iron the fancy things, pad your ironing board until it is soft, then wring a cloth out of cold water and lay it on it. Stretch it smooth and pin the embroidered pieces, wrong side up, on, being sure they are exactly straight. Now iron and the steam will rise from the wet cloth; keep ironing until the under cloth is dry, then remove the pins and your pretty things will look just like new.

"It is not tiresome to do such things and I think you will really enjoy it."

"No, I never will enjoy washing," answered the new housekeeper, "but perhaps if I try your way. I shall not mind it as much as I had thought I should and I am much obliged for your advice, but," she added, "don't wait for me to hang my pretty things on the clothes line to inspect them, come and see me and I will show them to you."

"Maybe I will," said her neighbor. Tomorrow—Ways to Serve Melons.

The Annual Chicken Fry. After the game, United Commercial Travelers and their friends enjoyed a bounteous chicken supper, served in the new dining hall south of the lake by the Woman's Club of the U. C. T's. Chicken, fried to perfection, salads, palatably blended, sandwiches in plenty, cake and coffee—but a few of the many good things needed to be mentioned to gain an idea of the of the abundant hospitality on this annual chicken fry. More than four score persons partook of the spread, served under direction of Mrs. J. N. Conover, chairman of the committee and Mrs. L. R. Craig, president of the club, assisted by Mrs. Thomas Walsh, Mrs. George Haight, Mrs. H. Mortenson, Mrs. Abner Thompson, George T. McKee and a number of others. L. R. Craig, George Haight and J. N. Conover fried the chicken.

Next Saturday the team from the Jacksonville council will meet Springfield on their home grounds and a lively game will result, when Springfield tries to even up the score.

CITY TEACHERS HELD MEETING SATURDAY

SUPT. VASCONCELLOS MADE ADDRESS ON SCHOOL LAW CHANGES.

Teachers Talked About Institutions Where Summer Work Has Been Pursued—Greetings Extended By Supt. Collins.

The teachers of the city schools had a pleasant home coming yesterday morning in the auditorium of the Lavid Prince building and heard an excellent address from County Superintendent H. H. Vasconcellos, some fine music by the high school orchestra and several enjoyable vocal numbers, and a series of pleasing narratives of summer experiences on the part of several teachers.

Superintendent Collins greeted the teachers and introduced County Superintendent H. H. Vasconcellos, who gave a good talk on the new school law of the state. He said in part: "I greet you on your return to your duties and I trust you have come back determined to make this the best school year in the history of the city. The school laws of our state are complex and very poor. They often contradict themselves and are hard to unravel and comprehend. Illinois is third in the union in educational work and it is strange that it should be so with its laws and the reason it does stand so well is owing to the excellent quality of its teachers. There are three great influences in the life of a child: the home, the church and the school. While the church is the mother of schools it is now necessary to divorce them. Too many parents expect the teacher to care for the moral, mental and physical welfare of their children which is not right."

Distributive Fund Figures. The change in the law added a million to the distributive fund so that now the county gets some $15,000 and the city about $7,000. The certificate law or manner of examining teachers has been changed. Now questions are sent out by the state superintendent of schools and the lists are made up by professors who expect teachers to know of the subjects as much as the specialists. The questions were sent in last time and the state authorities went out into the highways and hedges and hired people at $3 a day to mark them. The system is unfair as often merely answering questions is no test of a teacher's ability in the school room. There are nine classes of certificates. The high school, the grades, emergency, special and provisional. The thanks of the county teachers are due Mr. Montgomery for the manner in which he took care of their interests. The speaker then explained at length the matters pertaining to the different kinds of certificates.

The law also provides for kindergarten and physical training. The latter is questionable as pupils should get enough exercise at home with our short hours. In Germany the hours are 7 a.m. to 5 p.m. and they surely need a little exercise. The high school tuition law lasted but a year. It was oppressive or might be if any special number from a district wanted to attend. Now the tuition is paid from the distributive fund. The sanitation bill may be a good thing but still we have germs, germs, germs. They have always existed and without them we should not live very long. Even the poor, inoffensive tooth brush is catching it now and called a source of danger. It is easy in a school to see from what kind of a home a child comes. We should try to develop what is in a child and bring out its best points. The people have two years in which to bring the school buildings up to the legal requirements, heat, light ventilation, furniture and the like. When that is accomplished we shall expect the germs to be relegated to the regions of innocuous desuetude.

Pensions for Teachers. "The pension laws grew out of the efforts of the Illinois teachers. Germany pensions her teachers, military and public servants; cities pension policemen and firemen. There are 26 states in which there are pension laws. The country spends six hundred millions a year on account of crime and little more than half that for education. There are in this state 31,000 teachers; 579 get less than $200 yearly; 12 per cent. less than $300; 27 per cent. less than $400; 56 per cent. less than $600, and only 19 per cent. get more than $1,000. It is too bad teachers can't hibernate in the summer."

"It is but right that teachers should be paid in summer time especially when they put in part of that time fitting themselves the better to do their work."

The speaker then explained at length the law and its working. "Let us try to do all we can to make the schools better in every way. My office will always be open to every teacher and I shall be glad to do everything in my power to aid all who choose to call on me."

A rising vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Vasconcellos after which Miss Helen Obermeyer sang with great acceptance a song entitled "In the Candle Light."

Teachers' Summer Experiences. Supt. Collins then said they would hear from different persons who had spent the summer in study and a few sentences from each are appended here. Miss Eva Hammond told of the New York university where she studied music and art. The buildings are well located commanding a fine view of the city, the Hudson river and the palisades. In every way it is an ideal summer school, cool and attractive. The faculty is composed of the choicest talent. In the art department there were 150 but hereafter they will admit but 100. The social side of life is well considered. Recreations, dinners, dances, lectures, readings, concerts and many other attractions furnish pleasant diversion.

Miss Jennie Grassly told of the Chicago College of Physical Education and Expression. "Its location is not ideal but in the top story of a down town building the instruction is far excellence. We worked in physics, hygiene, first aid, floor work, dances, games and the like. We worked long hours. Our dormitory was near the lake and we took much pleasure there swimming and other exercise. Socially we were well looked after. We had tennis at Jackson park, beach parties, lake trips to Michigan City. Our teachers were superior. We had a Swedish and a German teacher in gymnastics and many others."

Tril Gouveia then sang with fine ability a song entitled "The Perfect Day."

Miss Russell told enthusiastically of the American College of Physical Education situated at Grand boulevard and 42nd street, New York City. "The buildings are fine and the teaching force second to none. The effort is to teach the students to develop the muscles and all that pertains to the body. They have a swimming pool and various fine appliances. There are lectures by experts and specialists of established reputation. The school is two years old and has a course of two years. All are happy, teachers and pupils and all work for the happiness of the others. We worked from 8 a.m. till 6 p.m. and studied the moral, mental and physical elements of our work. We had plenty of sociability and pastimes."

Miss Bessie Pratt told of the state normal school at Normal. They have recently erected some much needed new buildings and now need a new girls' dormitory. There were in attendance 2,000 students, the largest number in the history of the school. Almost any kind of work could be pursued there and they have added a farm which is good. Outside the regular course there are many helpful things, lectures, plays and the like.

Miss Laura Hammond told of Columbia university. It was chartered by King George long ago and was the place of great things. The library lot cost a million; a new building would cost a million; there was the first building in the land for research work in the matter of cancer. It is a fine thing to be in the atmosphere of Columbia. There are main lines of thought in the summer course; repeaters, retained and accelerated. A normal child needs eight years to accomplish what is demanded in six in our schools. The teacher should find the condition of each pupil and try to supply what is most needed. A wealthy man in Pittsburgh asked to what purpose he could best devote his money and they told him to pay the expenses of teachers at summer schools and he did it.

Miss Wardhaugh told of the Illinois university. Champaign tries to claim the institution but it is Urbana. Its opportunities are well nigh boundless. It has attractions for all races. There is a Chinese club with a good number. The summer school had 1041 enrolled. There is a fine air of courtesy on all sides. The library is superb with many thousand books on all possible subjects. There are plenty of entertainments of all kinds. The young men don't like the military drill but it is a good thing.

Miss Wylder told of the Chicago university very briefly. It is a very great privilege to be under the instruction of the fine teachers they have there. The social side is fully cared for and all have a fine time.

Miss Bee Ellis told of the state normal commercial course which is admirably equipped for the work and does it well.

Miss Jeanette Taylor told of the American College of Physical Education which is also one of the best in the land.

MISS RUTH MILLER WEDS R. E. PARKS AT O.D. MISSION

Popular Young Jacksonville Woman Will Live in Traverse City—Ceremony Performed By Rev. Wilbur McKee.

At high noon on Thursday, Sept. 2, 1915, at the beautiful summer home of J. Marshall Miller, at Old Mission, Mich., occurred the marriage of Reuben E. Parks to Miss Ruth Elizabeth Miller, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Marshall Miller.

The simple but impressive ceremony was performed by the Rev. Wilbur McKee, pastor of Grace Methodist church of Traverse City, Mich., who united the two in marriage using the beautiful ring ceremony. Only the immediate families and intimate friends of the contracting parties were present.

The home was tastefully decorated with a profusion of ferns and cut flowers. The bride's gown was of silk mull and lace, and she carried bride's roses, with smilax and chrysanthemums.

The high school girl, and teacher of two winters in the public schools of Jacksonville had fast grown to the estate of womanhood and now she hopefully and happily weds the young man whom she met several years ago at Old Mission, and the acquaintance then formed has grown and ripened into the marriage.

Mr. Parks has a position in the First National bank of Traverse City, where he has been a trusted employee for several years. The young couple after a wedding trip on the lakes, will make their home at 821 Webster street, Traverse City, where the house is already furnished complete for housekeeping.

Many useful and beautiful gifts were received by the bride and groom. Many tokens of esteem coming from Jacksonville, where friends of the bride met Mr. Parks in his visit here about a year ago.

A dainty course luncheon was served, after which the couple departed in an automobile to begin their wedding trip. Their friends in both Michigan and Illinois unite in wishing the newly wedded pair a joyous and prosperous married life.

H. A. Goodrick, local agent for the National Express Co., received by express last evening five coops of homing pigeons from the Homing club of South Bend, Ind. The birds will be given water and at 5:30 o'clock this morning will be released. Mr. Goodrick has had on a number of occasions pigeons sent to him to release. If the weather is cloudy the birds have been seen to circle over the city for over an hour before taking flight, but if it is bright with light breeze blowing they dash away upon getting up a safe distance above the houses.

DRESS UP, BOYS

WHY? Because Company is coming! Dress Up!
Because these are "piping times of Prosperity" with us. Dress Up!
Two billions of gold in the banks suffocating to get out into many times this amount of credits to buy things!
Billions of bushels of corn, wheat and other crops ripening into more dollars, which will be spent to dress up!
What is the big asset of this country, anyway?
One Hundred Millions of People Unafraid, who can afford to Dress Up!
Every American is a Sovereign! Dress up and prove it.
You are a sovereign whether you believe it or not.
Take that cash you have hid in a "stocking" and dress up!
"Start Something!" Dress up, and soon every neighbor on your block will follow suit.
Talk it to everybody! Be a leader! The most remarkable thing in the world is the Law of Suggestion.
Stop on a crowded street, look up at the sky and instantly everybody in sight looks up. Dress Up!
Whistle a cheerful tune and everybody within hearing distance will hum it!
Let everybody dress up. Talk it to everybody else until we all get the habit.
Dressing is a fine habit!
Five fine young men, merchants of New York City, started to walk to the Catskills.
When night overtook them, they applied at a boarding-house for lodging. They were dirty, unkempt, tired, and tramps to all appearances.
At this house there were a dozen fine girl boarders spending their vacation.
As the "merchants" had no "change" of clothing, they couldn't be introduced. One, however, had the foresight to carry in his "kit" a new shirt, collar and scarf. He was introduced "dressed up".
He had "the time of his life", while the others sulked outside.
"Right Dress", says the Captain as the reviewing Major marches down the line. The regiment straightens out and up, like a plumb line. That is the test! Dress up!
The "safety razor" has coined millions because it helps men dress up.
"Phoebe Snow" is loved by all because she is a sweet girl all dressed up.
Don't be a "sloven". Dress Up!
The wife who meets her husband neatly dressed, holds him safe. Dress Up!
The "drummer" who is untidy in habit may as well stay at home.
It is the "dressed up" store that wins the trade.
It is the best-dressed shop window that creates DESIRE and draws the customer in.
Nature is ever proclaiming the Truth to man, "Dress Up!" She is ever Dressing Up! In the morning the East is rosy with the Dawn. At "high noon" cool shadows invite men in the quiet caress of their charm. At evening Day passes into the twilight and to rest. Dress Up!
Let us with great enthusiasm Dress Up NOW!

The school and college lads will have inspired confidence and be more ambitious in their studies if they dress up.
